NUMBER 65.

PIC-NIC TO-MORROW.

Attend the A. O. H. grand pic-nic at Wright's Woods, three miles from Paris. 15c round-trip on Interurban. Buy tickets at the station. Plenty of music and a good time insured for everybody. Admission 25 cents.

Paris and Bourbon Grants Franchise.

As was predicted in Friday's News the City Council granted the Maysville and Paris Electric Railway a franchise to enter the city, with but one dissenting vote, that of Councilman Geo. Rassenfoss.

The Fiscal Court, on Friday, also granted a franchise to this company from the Bourbon and Nicholas line to the city. There was but one dissenting vote in the Fiscal Court, that of Squire J. P. Howell, of Clintonville precinct.

Loaded To The Guards.

The three excursion trains to Parks Hill and one to Natural Bridge that passed through Paris, Sunday, were loaded to the guards. Three hundred tickets were sold at Paris station for Parks Hill Assembly.

For One Month.

We are giving bargains in Wall Paper put on the walls, commencing Tuesday, August 1, for one month.

J. T. HINTON.

The A. O. H. Picnic.

Great preparations have been made and everything is in readiness for the big picnic to be given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians to-morrow (Wednesday) in Wright's Woods, on the Interurban line, near town. The ladies will spread a sumptuous dinner under the large shade trees and you will be waited on by a bevy of the loveliest of young ladies. This will be the biggest pic-nic ever given in Bourbon county, and if you want to put in a day of real enjoyment, don't fail to go. Special cars will be run from this city to the grounds. Secure your tickets at Interurban office.

Wheat Wanted.

Before selling your wheat, see us or call 'phone No. 84. We buy at all stations on F. & C. and L. & N. railroads. We will store your wheat in our warehouse at Centerville or at Millersburg or in our elevator at Paris.

R. B. HUTCHCRAFT.

Prevents Big Fire.

At 7:30 o'clock Friday morning, in response to a telephone message, the fire department made a hurried call to Brannon's restaurant, on Main, between Seventh and Eighth street, where a gasoline tank had become ignited, setting fire to the interior of the building. Quick work perhaps prevented what looked like a disastrous blaze.

Big Purchase of Fat Cattle.

Joe Frakes has bought for Schwartzchild & Sulzberger Co., of New York, in the past few days the following fat cattle for export:

Two car loads from Collins & Caywood, of North Middletown; two car loads from Elmer Boardman, of Little Rock; four car loads from E. P. Claybrook, of Hutchison, and one car load from F. E. Nelson, of Clintonville. There were in all 162 head, for which he paid from 4½ to 4¾ cents.

DEATHS.

—The remains of Miss Sallie McCoy, who died at her home at Rushville, Ind., arrived here yesterday evening on the 5:30 train. Funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock, at the grave in the old family burying ground at Washington Redmon's, conducted by Rev. J. L. Clark.

—Mrs. A. O. Harney, daughter of John Conner, died at her home on Tenth street, in this city, Friday evening. The remains were taken to Clintonville for burial on Sunday. She leaves a husband and one little girl.

—Dr. Hord Sharp, aged 60, fell dead at Sharpshurg Sunday. He was well-known in this county.

Terribly Mangled.

The mangled body of James Stegall, aged about 40 years, who three years ago completed his service as a soldier in the Philippines, was discovered Friday morning by the engineer of the 5:40 a. m. north bound passenger train as he passed off the big bridge near the junction of Mt. Airy and Houston avenue. The trunk of the body was wedged between two ties. It is supposed that he was in the Mt. Airy cut when struck, as portions of body and his clothing were scattered from that point to the Duncan avenue bridge. One hand was found on lower Main street, where it had fell from the bridge. His head, which was fearfully lacerated, was hanging to the trunk by the skin.

The unfortunate man is a cousin of Benj. Steagall, one of the employes in the city quarries.

It is supposed Stegall was enroute to the place of Ora Wagner, where he was employed, as he was last seen alive at 10 o'clock Thursday night on Second street. He probably started through the deep railroad cut, a few feet north of County Clerk Ed. Paton's residence, when he was overtaken by a train of cars, or else was asleep on the track.

Bourbon's Negro Giant Dead.

Adam Lewis, the negro giant of Bourbon, is dead. He resided at Hutchison, this county, on the farm of Geo. Clayton, and was a market gardner and peddler. He was six feet three inches tall, and weighed nearly 400 pounds. There was no coffin in Paris large enough to contain his remains, which necessitated the order to have one specially constructed at Cincinnati. Lewis was 60 years old and enjoyed the respect of the community where he lived.

He has a daughter who lived with him that weighs over 300 pounds.

Paris, Ky., Tuesday, August 15, 1905.

It is about time to cut out street fairs and organize a company to hold an old time Agricultural Fair in this county. In years gone by the Bourbon County Fair was noted throughout the country and it would only take a few years to regain the reputation of years ago.

The street fair is only of no service, but it is a real detriment to any town where it is held, and it seems to us that demands of self interest, good sense and common decency should prevent the continuance of exhibitions which attracts larg ly an undesirable element of population that take away more money than they bring in.

An old-fashioned fair here, properly managed, would undoubtedly pay. It would not only pay the stockholders of the association holding it, but it would to a greater extent pay the land owners, the business men, and the citizens of the county in the encouraging impetus it would give live stock and agricultural interests.

It is sincerely hoped that this matter will be taken up at once by our enterprising citizens and breeders of fine stock and in 1906 a fair will be given in Bourbon county that every citizen of the county will be proud of.

If there is one place on the face of the globe where poor man is appreciated, it is in the country of Paraguay. If there is a paradise on earth this is certainly man's paradise. In Paraguay the women are in proportion of seven to one as compared with the men. The consequence is that the men are taken the greatest care of and everything which is unpleasant or might be risky to the life of a man is done by the women. The streets are cleaned, ships are loaded, oxen are driven by them, and it is even said that they have taken part in the country's wars, acting as substitutes for their men folks.

We are thinking that it would not take much persuasion to organize a colony of men in these parts to emigrate to Paraguay.

SECRETAY McCHESNEY has issued a proclamation in accordance with a law passed by the last legislature calling for a vote in November on the question of changing the method of voting in Kentucky from the present secret ballot. The secret ballot does not answer the purpose it was intended for and has proven to be just the system for "cheaters." A change to the old, viva voci way will insure cleaner and fairer elections beyond any doubt.
Let old Bourbon give a rousing majority against the present system.

THE demands of Japan are very reasonable to the Japs perhaps, but it looks as if they were trying to rub it in on Russia a little. They only demand $750,000,000 indemnity, transfer of lease on Port Arthur and Dalny to Japan, transfer of the railroad, recognition of Japan's control of Corea, and the cession of the island of Sakhalin, and before the peace conference is over will probably ask that the Czar and his royal family be thrown in to boot.

DURING the three years ending January 1, 1905, the value of beef cattle in the United States declined $165,000,000, and during the same period the price of dressed beef advanced 40 per cent. This is another one of the many glaring facts that Mr. Garfield forgot to mention.

THE eminent gentlemen who were quite sure that Governor Folk could not put a stop to race track gambling have since made the acquaintance of a public officer who has a queer fad for enforcing the law. They are of a different opinion now.

WHAT does it matter whether they are genuine bones of the genuine John Paul Jones? Even if they are not genuine no one has heard John or the real owner kick about honors paid them.

It will be too bad if Japan becomes seized with the notion that the soldiers of Russia are a type of white-skinned soldiers of the whole world—too bad for Japan.

WE have never heard anyone making the claim that Main street was religious. Yet, can anyone say it is not "holy?"

 "He does not, sir," snapped the maiden. "My father got his money honestly, I want you to understand."

Had No Use For Her.

[Springfield, Ill., News.]

A certain small village in the West, far removed from the nose and bustle of commerce, boasts of a female preacher, and the lady's duties are many. One day she may visit the sick, another attend a funeral and the next day baptize a baby. One afternoon for the following Sabbath when she heard a timid knock at the parsonage door. Answering the summons, she found a bashful young German standing on the step twirling his straw hat in his hands.

"Good afternoon," the preacher remarked. "What do you wish?"

"Say der minister lifed in dis house, hey?"

"Yes, sir."

"Yess? Vel, I want me to get married."

"All right; I can marry you," she said.

The lady's hair is beginning to silver and the German glanced at it. Then he jammed his hat on his head and hurried down the path.

"What's the matter?" she called after him.

"You gits no chance mit me," he called back. "I don't vant you; I haf got me a girl aletty."

Spoiled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard, of W. 34th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt rheum or eczema for years, but nothing would cure it until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at Oberdorfer's drugstore.

Nubs of News.

London will soon put on its streets a motor street cleaning machine that will do the work of 500 men. It operates rakes for caked mud, "squeezes" for wet weather, a revolving brush and a set of overlapping scrapers to complete the cleaning operation. All the refuse goes into a box. It works at the rate of eight miles an hour.

Cardinal Gibbons on Divorce.

The head of the Catholic Church in this country does not mince matters in his essay on Pure Womanhood in the September Cosmopolitan. It is astonishingly emphatic, and his discussion of woman's responsibility in the home, and the divorce question, is recommended to every woman in the country no matter what her religious creed. It is certainly one of the most stimulating utterances relating to the home sphere that have appeared in a long time.

He is now in jail at Louisville awaiting the result of this action.

Some Pigmy Freaks.

[Pearson's Weekly.]

The pigmies at present in England are giants compared with some of the tribes of natives who inhabit the wild, desolate and almost unknown Pamir plateau to the northwest of the Hindoo Koosh range of mountains in Central Asia.

So great is the altitude of this great tableland that geographers refer to it as "the roof of the world." Few, indeed, are the travelers or explorers who have ever ventured even on to its southern fringe, lying just beyond the northwest frontier of India.

But the scientific world is being startled by the news which is leaking out of the results of the explorations by the two Danish officers, Messrs. Oloufsen and Philipsen, who have recently penetrated into some strange corners of this hitherto mysterious region.

They have an astounding tale to tell. But they have brought back with them over 300 photographs incontestably proving what they say. In parts of the Pamirs, it appears, the people are not only all dwarfs, but the very animals of the district, both wild and domestic, are correspondingly diminutive in stature.

The full-grown men and women are rarely a yard high. Their donkeys and their horses, which in appearance resemble our smallest ponies, are about the size of large dogs.

The bulls and cows—fierce little creatures—are no larger than a newborn European calf, and the sheep are about the size of small poodles. Tigers no larger than kittens are said to infest the hills.

Smaller and lower even in the human scale, however, than these Asiatic pigmies are some creatures which the natives of the great Congo Basin in Africa call Kaieke, and will insist are men and not beasts.

The Kaieke are said to have very long hair, small, keen eyes, to be very wild—never coming into towns—and only to be seen in the brush, where they sometimes try to hold converse with the natives.

Mr. H. F. McGarvie, too, an American showman, recently returned from a trip to Mexico with photographs of some extraordinary tribes of pigmies he discovered in the vicinity of Tuxpan.

One man named Pedro and his two diminutive daughters ran out of their hut and along a creek, where the tall grass completely hid them from view.

The grass was hardly knee high to the showman. Yet it was like a forest to the little people, and Mr. McGarvie could only locate them by the commotion they caused in the vegetation by their shrill cries.

He found them to be a race of mid-get Indians, speaking a patois of Spanish, so that he had little difficulty in understanding them. None of the little people are more than two feet high, and Mr. McGarvie expects to have a group of them on view shortly in New York.

Another race of dwarfs, discovered by a Mr. J. D. Sullivan on one of the tributaries of the Amazon, are a people remarkable chiefly for their ugliness. Their stomach, which is distended in the back as well as in front, is out of all proportion to their tiny spindling arms and legs.

This is because of their habit of gorging. After a hunt they will eat like animals, and then lie listlessly in the hot tropical sun for days until hunger again impels them to get more game.

In the same way among the wandering African pigmies a slain elephant becomes the site of a new camp until all its flesh is consumed, when the little men move off in search of a fresh quarry, which they blind before spearing to death by shooting poisoned arrows into its eyes.

Individual pigmies, however, it is said, may also be encountered in the villages of the big negroes, where they are petted as curiosities.

Young Grandmother Gets Divorce.

[Kansas City Telegraph to the Philadelphia Press.]

The youngest grandmother in the State of Missouri was given a divorce to-day. She is Laura B. Milice. She is thirty-four years old. She has two daughters and two grandchildren, one of them three years old. She was divorced to-day from Frank M. Milice, who is in the real estate and insurance business. It was the second time she had been divorced. August 11, 1893, she married Milice, but he left her in August, 1903.

"You were pretty young when you were first married?" asked Judge Park. "Yes, sir; I was only fourteen. I am the youngest grandmother in Missouri."

"What, are you a grandmother?" asked the Judge.

"Yes, sir. My daughter was married when she was seventeen years old. I have two of the handsomest daughters you ever saw."

Mrs. Milice is a young and good-looking woman, now.

Very Embarrassing.

[Kansas City Journal.]

A young newspaper man at Westmoreland was recently invited to a residence where the house had recently been blessed with an addition to the family. Accompanied by his best girl, he met his kind hostess at the door, and, after the customary salutation, asked about the welfare of baby. The lady was suffering from a severe cold, which made her slightly deaf, and she supposed that the young man was inquiring about her cold. She replied that though she usually had one every winter, this was the worst one she had ever had; it had kept her awake at night a great deal at first, and confined to her bed. Then noticing that the scribe was becoming pale and nervous, she said she could see by his looks that he was going to have one just like hers.

The Fickle Sailor.

Mayor Weaver, of the awakened city of Philadelphia, was talk to a reporter about very astute and wily politician.

"It is difficult," said the Mayor, "to get this man to do anything he doesn't want to do. Cornered, he advanced argument after argument against the course you desire him to pursue. He begins with weak arguments. You think you've got him. But just as victory appears assured he puts forth final argument that is insuperable—a final argument that floors you thoroughly."

"The fellow is like the fickle sailor of the old romance. This sailor was strong, handsome and gay. The girls like him and he liked the girls. The following conversation one moonlight night passed between him and a young woman:

"Then, Jack, when shall we be married?"

"But I promised by wife, sweetheart, that I would never marry a second time."

"The young girl, beautiful in the flattering moonlight, murmured:

"Would you cast me off for the sake of a promise to a dead woman?"

"But she isn't dead yet," said the fickle sailor."

The Case of Adam and Eve.

The Rev. E. T. Moont, the Oregon clergyman and author, lived some years ago in Colorado, and one day in talking about Colorado, he said:

"In a certain church in Colorado Springs there used to be a queer old crusty character, a Scot who was noted for his profound knowledge of the Scriptures. I lectured in that church one evening, and after the lecture the Scot and I and some few others fell into conversation.

"I was urged to put the old man's Scriptural knowledge to the test. I was urged to question him and let him question me. He would get the better of me—that, every one said, was certain—but I had my doubts, and, turning to the Scot, said confidently:

"I will try you, my friend, with the grand, leading insurmountable question, How long did Adam remain in a state of innocence?"

"The Scot answered:

"Till he got a wife."

"Then, with a grim chuckle, he went on:

"But can you tell me, sir, how long he remained after?"

Mother of 25 Babies in 29 Years is Dead.

[Wilkesbarre, Pa., Telegram to the Philadelphia North American.]

Mrs. Samuel P. Swartwood, the mother of twenty-five children within twenty-nine years, died last night at her home at mountain top near here. There were but two sets of twins in all this number.

Of the twenty-five, eighteen are now alive, and several are married, there being twelve grandchildren. Mrs. Swartwood was married when fourteen years old, and the first baby came fourteen months later. This was in 1872, and during all the years since then she has not known the time when she did not have a baby to care for, except during the last few years, for the last baby came five years ago.

Mrs. Swartwood, always contented, said it was easier to raise a large family than a small one, and that her children were a great joy to her. Her husband is an engineer on the Jersey Central railroad.

Trousers Doing Duty in Their Sixtieth Year.

[Phoenixville, Pa., Telegram to the Philadelphia North American.]

Probably the oldest pair of trousers on record still in use is the pair which Col. N. M. Ellis, of this place, wears on hot summer days. The trousers were made sixty years ago and have been in Col. Ellis' possession ever since.

They are made of seersucker, blue and white striped. Col. Ellis is twenty-six years older than the famous trousers.

He was an aide-de-camp to Gov. William F. Packer and received his appointment in 1860. He is the only survivor of the twenty-two men who served on Gov. Packer's staff, and is probably the oldest living aide-de-camp in date of appointment in the State.

Tobacco Growers Meet.

About 100 farmers and tobacco growers of Bourbon county assembled at the court house at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to listen to an address by Archibald Stuart, of Cincinnati, on the best method and plan of controlling the growing crop, so as to realize a fair price for their labor. He told of the struggles of those who fathered the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association of last year, and pointed out the disadvantages under which they labored. He thought that under the present plan success was assured.

Bourbon county is asked to take 1,258 shares at $10 per share, of $12,500. Mr. John A. LaRue is chairman of the county interests, and will appoint a committeeman for each Magisterial district. Mr. Tom Current has consented to act at Ruddles Mills, while Mr. J. D. Booth will look after interest at Millersburg. Announcement of other committeemen will be made in a few days. Several hundred shares of stock have already been subscribed.

WANTED.—A picture of the late Wm. Garth, for our History of Paris and Bourbon County. Will take good care of it and return.

BOURBON NEWS.

Miss Annie McGee has let contract to Geo. Rion to build her a small cottage on Seventh street.

Sunflower Philosophy.

Anything will do for a woman's hat.

Women call it "figure," men call it "shape."

We suppose "sylph-like form" means when one is thin enough to break in two.

In dressing a child fathers will find this a good rule: put a waist on first, and everything else buttons on to it.

There is nothing more uncertain in a man's career than who will spend his life insurance, unless it is what it will be spent on.

You can always depend upon this: When mother pray it is for the children, and when father prays it is for himself or the reform of the world.

Ambition dwindles away in time like a cake of soap, and by the time a man is 70 he can remember that he ever had any in the tub with him.

It is a good plan for every wife to kindly let her husband get up once in the night with a sick child, so that he will have ground the next day for basing his demand for sympathy.

WAY TO TREAT HAY FEVER.

No Stomach Dosing, Just Breathe Hyomei—Stop Sneezing and Smarting.

Clarke & Co. are recommending to their customers as a cure for hay fever, Hyomei.

It is claimed for this remedy that it stops the spasmodic paroxysms, the sneezing, the smarting and running of the eyes and nose, and other acute symptoms of this disease.

Many persons have been cured of hay fever by Hyomei, and the discoverer of the remedy professes to be able to prevent both the occurrence of the annual attack and to stop the progress of the disease, even in the most chronic forms.

A Hamlin, of Westford, Mass., writes "Hyomei cured me of hay fever in one week's time. I consider it a duty to tell others who suffer from this disease."

This endorsement is only one of hundreds that have been received by the proprietors of Hyomei, and Clarke & Co. offer to refund the money if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it, is the strongest proof that can be given as to the confidence they have in Hyomei's power to cure hay fever. The complete outfit costs but $1.00, while extra bottles can be procured for 50 cents.

Clarence and Orrie Lebus, and Younger Alexander are among the stockholders. The stock has nearly all been subscribed.

We have 35 gallons of Pitkinsham Paint and 16 gallons of Elastic Roof Paint, at 75c per gallon, to close out. 28-31-f LYONS & McCORMICK.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, and my heart was weakened and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Oberdorfer, the druggist, at 50c a bottle. aug

Record Wheat Crops.

[Walla Walla, Wash., Telegram to Cincinnati Enquirer.]

Reports to the State Grain Inspector from nearly all the grain-growing sections of the State of Washington have resulted in the State Inspector's predicting that Washington will harvest the largest wheat crop in her history. Circular letters received from several large growers and mill men throughout the state show the prospect of a large crop, but also show that the acreage is larger than for many years. The yield will probably yield from 22 to 25 bushels per acre. The crop of barley is fair and will probably yield from 35 to 40 bushels to the acre. Oats will yield from 35 to 40 bushels per acre.

One leading miller stated that he had not tested any of the new wheat that graded less than 58 pound, and some of it tested 62 pounds.

Oregon also is harvesting one of the largest crops in her history.
